Falkland Islands Memorial Chapel

Located in the grounds of Pangbourne College this stunning chapel is designed in the shape of a ship to remember servicemen who lost their lives in the Falkland Islands War in 1982.

Directions: Use signposts from Pangbourne village - NOT postcode on website. Parking in the college grounds.

Deck the Halls will feature a dazzling array of traditional and contemporary Christmas floral decorations. Be prepared to be amazed by the talent in the Berks Bucks and Oxon Area of NAFAS. This local organisation comprises 37 flower clubs which have been involved in previous festivals in the Falkland Islands Memorial Chapel, and more recently at Dorchester Abbey.

Entry and programme by donation. Payment by cash, cheque or credit card

Open to public: Saturday: 10am-5pm and Sunday: 10am-4pm

Refreshments will be available in the College Cafe. Some of the exhibits will be available for sale by silent auction.

Coach parties: Please phone: Sara Steward on 0118 947 3006 or Email: festival@bbandoflowers.org.uk if you are planning to bring a coach party.

Proceeds from the flower festival will be shared between two charities:

* Falkland Islands Memorial Chapel Trust, custodians of the Chapel responsible for its maintenance. Celebrating 40th anniversary of the Falklands War

* Motor Neurone Disease Association Reading & West Berkshire Branch which supports local families affected by this devastating neurological disease for which there is currently no cure. Celebrating 35th anniversary of this branch.
